The Cleveland Browns' 2011 preseason opponents were announced today, and the list features matchups against three teams that qualified for the 2010 playoffs, including the defending Super Bowl Champion Green Bay Packers.

The Cleveland Browns' 2011 preseason opponents were announced today, and the list features matchups against three teams that qualified for the 2010 playoffs, including the defending Super Bowl Champion Green Bay Packers.

For the third consecutive year, the Browns will open their preseason campaign against Green Bay as they host the Packers on the weekend of August 11-15. For the 10th consecutive season, the Browns will face Detroit in preseason action, when they welcome the Lions to Cleveland Browns Stadium during the weekend of August 18-22.

Cleveland then travels to Lincoln Financial Field to face the Philadelphia Eagles on the weekend of August 25-29. It will be the first preseason meeting between the two clubs since 2006. The Browns will conclude the preseason September 1-2, when they travel to Chicago to meet the Bears. The contest marks the eighth straight year that Cleveland and Chicago have met in the preseason finale.

2011 CLEVELAND BROWNS PRESEASON OPPONENTS:

WEEK / DATES	OPPONENT			SITE
1	Aug. 11-15	vs.	Green Bay Packers	Cleveland Browns S
2	Aug. 18-22	vs.	Detroit Lions	Cleveland Browns Stadiu
3	Aug. 25-29	at	Philadelphia Eagles	Lincoln Financial Field
4	Sept. 1-2	at	Chicago Bears	Soldier Field

Specific dates and times will be announced in the near future. All preseason games will air on the Cleveland Browns Radio Network (WMMS 100.7FM).

Cleveland Browns 2011 season tickets are now available. Fans can purchase season tickets by calling (440) 824-3434, toll free at (888) 891-1999 or online at www.ClevelandBrowns.com .