

Kyrie Irving is making a name for himself in the NBA.

ORLANDO - Cleveland Cavaliers rookie point guard Kyrie Irving was named the Most Valuable Player of the BBVA Rising Stars Game on Friday night.

Irving lead Team Chuck, the team drafted by former NBA great Charles Barkley, to a 146-133 win over Team Shaq, the team drafted by four time NBA Champion Shaquille O'Neal.

Irving lead all scorers with 34 points and added nine assists. Irving shot a perfect of eight of eight from three point range.
